Dock Here.—Lots on Leavenworth street
Look Here.—Lots on Leavenworth street within a few weeks have sporcenated in value from 25 to 50 per cent. Many people, whose opinions are valued, predict that next spring, when the grading is completed, a still greater advance—more than on any other street in the city. Sheridan Place is one of the prettiest and most pepular additions on this street.
Some of the lots purchased in this addition during the summer have recently been resold at a profit of from two to three hundred deliars.
The owners of the addition have still a few choice lots unsold, which they have placed in our hands with orders to sell at from 7556 to 5750, on easy terms. If not sold within a short time they will be willdrawn from the market until next spring. This affords the best opportunity for speculation, for people of small means, to be found in the city. A. H. Comstock, Room 16, Creighton Block. 20221 Vacant Lots.

Ves, vacant lots. Oh, well, it is useless to enumerate them. We have them anywhere and everywhere, in all the additions, of every kind, size, price an terms. But please remember that there has not a lot depreciated in value in Omaha in the last five years, and we have the first case to know where a party procured a lot cheaper by waiting. Omaha has seen a good year in the present one. But 1887 will eclipse the past, and real estate in Omaha—remember we say in Omaha—will never again be as cheap as now. Therefore, the wise will buy in A. D. 1886, and from M. A. Upton & Co. 1509 Farnam st.

Men of small means who desire to get ahead in this world, read the following and see what you taink of this chance to make much mone from little, Anistield, Anistield, Anisfield. Is beautifully situated on the north side of Bancroft, 3½ blocks east of 10th st.

In the last couple of years South 10th st. has untergone a grand transformation. Instead of the high, almost inaccessible bluffs that formerly drove all travel to other streets, there now appears a magnificent stretch of wide now appears a magnificent stretch of wide street properly graded to within one block of Bancroft and paved with asphalt to Center. Wator and gas mains are laid to a point just this side of Bancroft, as are also sewer pipes. The street cars, by virtue of their franchise to cross the Tenth street viaduct, are bound by contract to have their cars running to Bancroft street within one year of the completion of that structure.

Property on Tenth street, north of Williams, can hardly be bought, so extravagant are the prices asked. South of Williams they gradually decrease until at Bancroft and Tenth they are sold at from $2,900 up.

Anisfield Addition, as above stated, is but 3½ blocks east of Tenth, and is north of Bancroft on a beautiful plateau level with 16th st. Houses are all about and beyond this choice addition, and lots less desirable, and separated only by the street, are valued at from $1,000 to $1,500.

This beautiful addition is owned and placed on the market by parties who are intimately identified with and well informed as to the growth of Omaha, and the probable increase or decrease of values, but they are not logs, and truly believe in the adage of "live and let live," for this reason, and for the more potent one that they make a good profit on the original investment, they have decided to offer 28 of these for this reason, and for the more potent one that they make a good profit on the original investment, they have decided to offer 28 of these beautiful lots at prices ranging from $400 to $800, and on the following very ibecal terms: For an $800 lot a cash payment of $100, the balance $10 per month. For a $400 lot a cash payment of $50, balance also $10 per month. This is an opportunity and it is for you to decide, so come early if you desire to secure one or more of these lots, for they are sure to go as soon as seen, and next year you can sell them back to me at double the price you now pay for them.

tendency, and unless speculation should carry our wheat away up beyond reason there seems to be no likelihood of the shutting off) of the foreign demand for American bread stuffs. The complaint everywhere is of a scarcity of ocean freight room. That alone prevents what would be otherwise a very heavy export movement. Public cables were strong and several private messages from across the water quoted the market "strong and buoyant." There has been in the past two or three weeks an advance of several cents in the bid price of California wheat in England. From seaboard markets reports are all one way and New York is feeling exceedingly bullish, judging from the tenor of news and the nature and extent of orders sent west. In the wheat pit to-day there was a pitched battle between the New York bulls and the northwestern bears, with the moral support of the local crowd generally thrown with the former. The storm has interfered with the movement of spring wheat this week and statisticians are figuring on a small increase to the visible supply, but a note of warning is sounded to "look out for tremen dous receipts at Minneapolis and Dunext week," with a lib eral stop - over movement Chicago and Milwaukee. Changes have been rung on this so often that it has lost much of its original force, but it was played again to-day for all there was in it. The northwest slugged the market furiously all day, but to slugged the market furiously all day, but to no purpose. The offerings were absorbed readily and at close feeling was stronger than at any time previously. The opening was \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{M}} \) \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{M}} \) and the late curb prices. First trades in December were at \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{C}} \), in January at \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{L}} \) and in May at \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{L}} \) some trades were made at slightly better figures, but the market receded under a pressure of \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{C}} \). From this reaction there was a steady recovery, and, as stated, the close was firm at the best prices of the morning, viz: \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{L}} \) for January and \(82\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{C}} \) for May, a gain for the day of \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{M}} \) \(\frac{1}{2} \text{\text{L}} \) corn was almost lifeless and for an hour during the forenoon there was scarcely any trade. The fluctuations were so scarcely any trade. The fluctuations were so very light as to be barely perceptible. Of outside news there was none and the market was destitute of distinguishing local features. The closing prices were the same as yester-day and Thursday. Nothing worth mention-ing transpired in oats. Provisions were dull and easier. The receipts of live hogs were liberal and heavy arrivals for next week are anticipated. Speculative trade has been in a comatose state for so long that the revival of activity is a glow and laborious receiver. activity is a slow and laborious process. Very insignificant price variations are in the direction of a lower range,

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK. CHICAGO, Nov. 20 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |- CATTLE .- To-day the fresh recelpts were quite light and the demand was liteless. The market was not quotably changed, but values were weak at yesterday's prices. Sales indicate but little improvement over the rates of Wednesday, which were the lowest in seven years. One salesman, who had the best cattle that were sold, quoted prices 10@15c lower. There was literally no demand. Shipping steers, 1350 to 1500 lbs, $4,80@4.90; 1200 to 1350 lbs, $3.60@4.20; 950 to 1200 lbs, $3,00@3,50; stockers and feeders 3.40; bulk $2.00@2.40; through Texas cattle, strong at $2,25@3.60. In range cattle the week has been a comparatively quiet one in this branch of the market. Trade was early dull and lower, and Wednesday business was dull and stagnant. Since then prices have advanced about 25@30c on all desirable Texas stock. Sales: 56 steers, 876 lbs, $2.60; 56 head, 863 lbs, 82,60; 44 head, 867 lbs, $2.65;

26 head, 273 lbs, $2.80. Hogs-Hogs seemed to come from all di rections to-day. Every road leading to this market threw in its contingent, and probably when the official figures are made up they will show the largest number ever received here on Saturday. Under this state of the market, salesmen soon discovered they would have to make even figures in order to tempt buyers, so they commenced taking 10c off and ended by taking 15c off, while in some cases values were fully 20c lower than yestercases values were fully 20c lower than yester-day. It was a steady decline from the open-ing to the close, prices ruling lowest at the finish, if there was really any finish. There was at least 60,000 on sales, as there were fully 12,000 left last night, and perhaps not over 40,000 were sold to-day. The sales below do not fairly represent prices to-day, as they were among the first made and are really 10c higher than those made toward the close of the day. Rough and common may be quoted at $3.40@3.40; fair to good mixed, $3.70@3.80; best mixed, $3.80@3.85; fancy heavy, $3.90@ 4.00; light sorts, $2.50@3.80.

Governments—Government bonds were dull but steady.

Stocks—Stocks opened active. The nervousness and excitement caused by Richmond & West Point spread through the entire list. First prices were ½(@½) higher than yesterday's closing figures, but the advantage was soon lost. The rally brought prices up to about the opening figures by noon, after which a much better feeling prevailed until toward the close, when everything gave way under the lead of Jersey Central. The market closed active but weak. The result of the day's business is a decline in most of the active stocks, while specialties show the most advances.
